

$12,000 Michael T. Martin Scholarship Application

THE AGC:

The Associated General Contractors, Las Vegas Chapter is a nonprofit construction trade association of some 680 member companies, both union and open shop, throughout the Las Vegas valley. AGC assists member companies with insurance benefits, safety programs, labor relations, public relations and networking opportunities, legislative involvement, representation and training education programs and community service projects. Some of the many career options to be explored within the construction industry include architecture, construction management, general contracting, subcontracting, building trades, estimating, engineering and much more. If you have an interest in building a career out of the opportunities available within the construction industry, then this scholarship can be a tremendous asset. To learn more about AGC, please visit www.agclv.org.

THE AWARD:

AGC will award a $12,000 scholarship to a graduating senior from a high school located within Clark, Nye, Esmeralda or Lincoln counties. AGC's Scholarship Committee will review all applications received by deadline and select the student who exemplifies leadership, integrity, creativity, dedication and studiousness along with a desire to enter a career in construction. Scholarship recipient must attend eight consecutive semesters at an accredited four-year college or university beginning the fall after high school graduation. Failure to do so may result in forfeiture of scholarship monies. The AGC scholarship board may waive this requirement should extenuating circumstances warrant.
